ARE VERY INDIGNANT.

Citizens of St. Joseph Denounce the Action of the City Council on Gas Franchise.

A PETITION IS TALKED OF

And Some of the More Bitter Ones
Propose that an Indignation Meeting be Held.

The citizens of St. Joseph are greatly wrought up over the action of the city council Tuesday night in denying the franchise asked for by the Excelsior Gas company of this city.

It is proposed that an indignation meeting be held and the city council publicly denounced for defeating the measure. Others propose that a petition be circulated praying of the council that it reconsider its action and grant the franchise.

No reason can be advanced as an excuse for the council's seemingly shortsightedness in denying the franchise. It involves no expenditure on the part of the city, it is held, and the refusal of the aldermen to grant the franchise is considered a direct slap to the idle men who are waiting for something to turn up by which they can earn an honest dollar.

It is also indicative of a feeling on the part of the opposing aldermen to totally disregard the business interests of the city. The establishment of the system in St. Joseph would place thousands of dollars in the pockets of the merchants and stimulate business at a time of year when ordinarily there is little going on.

The gas company has a franchise in St. Joseph but it will lapse before work can be commenced and in order to make a transfer of the plant, a proposition which has been in progress of consummation for some time, it is necessary to get an amended franchise in St. Joseph which will allow the company to pipe the streets there with the opening of spring. The company which proposes to purchase the plant is strongly capitalized and will spend thousands of dollars in improvements, by which both cities will be benefitted.

There seems to be no disposition on the part of Aldermen Doyle, Wilkinson, Barnes and Swigert, who oppose the franchise, to change their attitude. They are under the thumb of Colonel Bean, and the colonel's interests might suffer if gas was introduced in St. Joseph.

The defeat of the gas franchise in St. Joseph goes to prove what THE NEWS has always maintained; that Colonel Bean is not content unless he holds a monopoly and that the interests of the taxpayers will be sacrificed to promote the interests of the Benton Harbor & St. Joseph electric light company. It is understood that Alderman Rice, who voted with the aldermen who favored the granting of the franchise, has turned his coat and arrayed himself on the side of the opposition.

COUNTY TREASURER

Cass County Official Duped Out of $1,000.

Cassopolis, Nov. 18.—Norris Richardson, the treasurer of Cass county, was recently duped out of $1,000 by a sprinter who came along and got into the treasurer's confidence. Richardson finally loaned the sprinter $1,000 to back him in a foot race to occur at Granger. Richardson went with his new friend over the Indiana line to see the race. As soon as the stakes were counted out the two sprinters grabbed the stakes and ran, leaving Richardson standing in the road alone. The treasurer returned home minus his $1,000.

Richardson was sharp enough to keep his secret when he returned home from the race, and by a strange coincidence it became necessary to divulge the story.

On the day previous to the racing event the bank at Shipewana was burglarized. The supposed robbers were traced to Granger, and it was learned that they had been joined there by a party from Cassopolis. Mr. Richardson was soon located as one of the Cassopolis party and to remove all suspicion from himself it was necessary that he give up his secret.

GRAND PLEA FOR CLEMENCY

It is Made By Victor M. Gore, the Attorney Who Defended
the Convicted Man.

Peter Peterson, the convicted assaulter of Miss Eliza Harris was sentenced this afternoon at 3:45. He must serve a term of eight years in the penitentiary. He received the sentence with the same stoical demeanor that has marked his attitude since his trial begun.

Attorney Victor M. Gore made an impassioned plea for clemency. Those who heard it were deeply moved. He called the court's attention to the fact that the respondent, in his normal condition, is a person of weak intellect also to the important fact that he is a man of clean life, of industry, of good character, having the respect and confidence of all who knew him. "This distinguishes him from the criminal class," said Mr. Gore. "We have then a man of good character but of weak mind who was led into error by influences operating upon him and proceeding from others; that for two years and more he paid attention to Eliza in the utmost good faith. His whole life centered there. Every mind has its breaking point. Every mind can endure a burden of more or less weight and no more. The trouble which came to him was more than his depleted mental state could stand. These circumstances we shall urge the court to very carefully consider in pronouncing sentence."

"Previous to the tragedy his mind was in an indecisive state. It became more and more diseased as the day of the tragedy was approaching and that on the day of the tragedy all the circumstances from the time he got up in the morning until the culmination of the deed show the mind was so weak as to most imperfectly direct the movements of the body if at all."

"In addition the court should remember that the jurors whom counsel have reason to know, have spoken to the court and asked that the favor of the court be extended to the prisoner in pronouncing sentence, the jurors having been deeply impressed with the many mitigating circumstances surrounding the respondent. They were also impressed with the important fact that the respondent was not wholly to blame. The court's attention is also directed to the law which allows great latitude in the disposition of punishment or withholding the same. The law plainly notes that the court in imposing punishment shall consider carefully all the surrounding circumstances and use his best judgment and his humane judgment as occasion shall call for in the fulfillment of the law."

The proofs in the case of Emelius Wolcott against Leopold Husen were concluded this afternoon and the case will reach the jury before the hour for adjournment.

The next case to be heard is that of Frank J. Smith against Dr. W. H. Smith, an action to collect an alleged debt. The plaintiff has been employed by the doctor to take care of his horse and drive for him, for which services the plaintiff claims he has not been paid in full.

Drs. John Bell and Wakeman Ryno were allowed $5 each for expert testimony in the Peterson case the court ordering the same this morning.

HIS MUSIC TALKED.

Large Audience Was Carried Away by the Inspiring Music of Angelo Patricolo.

ALL COULD APPRECIATE IT.

The Player Played With His Heart as Well as His Fingers and Was Appreciated.

As the few great masters of oratory can sway their auditors so the great pianist, Signor Angelo Patricolo, played with a large audience that filled the main auditorium of the First Congregational church last evening. Not only did he play with his fingers but in the music there was expression and language of the soul that awakened and made musical hearts that never before had felt the inspiring touch of higher music.

There was something exciting in the applause that was given the artist after his first appearance. No one who was present and witnessed the scene will ever say that Benton Harbor people lack in the appreciation of good music. The actor showed himself the artist with his first touch of the keyboard. The instrument seemed to realize that before it sat the master and the response was as the strains of heavenly music—so simple that a child could understand, so eloquent that the trained musical ear was carried away by the wonderful interpretation of music difficult to execute. Even after the program was completed the audience sat still applauding in the hope that the master might appear once more.

In every number played there was the same display of genius. The art of Patricolo was perhaps best shown in Gotschalk's "Last Hope," with its measured slow and despairing notes. Chopin's "Funeral March," was wonderfully rendered. Patricolo played one march of his own composition, and Patricolo as a composer takes rank with Patricolo as a pianist.

The other numbers on the program were well enjoyed. Prof. Cady's ladies' chorus sang with its usual attractiveness, Graff Clarke won new honors as a violinist. Mrs. Charles Stone delighted all in her soprano solo, and Frank Welton in his readings was himself, and those who have heard him at his best know that that is compliment enough. The accompanists, Mrs. Cary and Miss Osborn, artistically filled their parts on the program.

Patricolo was happily gratified at his reception. "The first time I visited Elgin," he said, "I played to an audience of 50, but on my second visit an audience of 600 greeted me." The artist promised to visit Benton Harbor again.

The Congregational choir cleared about $25 from the concert. The director of the choir, A. P. Cady, announces that a sacred concert will be given at the church on the Sunday evening preceding Christmas and that the annual concert of the choir will occur on February 16.

ORATORY.

St. Joseph and Benton Harbor Talent to Have a Contest.

The Crescent society of St. Joseph has challenged the senate of the Y. M. C. A. of this city to a debate. The challenge will be accepted and a committee will be named at once to select a question.

The Y. M. C. A. senate will select the orators to represent it by a preliminary contest in which any member of the Y. M. C. A. or senate will be permitted to enter. Judges will be appointed and of those who appear in the preliminary oratorical contest the two decided the best will be pitted against the St. Joseph orators.

The contest is looked forward to with considerable zeal. There are good debaters in both bodies and a keen battle will be the result.

THE HARBOR.

THE IMPROVEMENTS NECESSARY TO RENDER IT AVAILABLE.

An Extension of 1,400 Feet to the South Pier and 600 to the North Is Recommended.

At a recent meeting of citizens to discuss the condition of the St. Joseph harbor and the features necessary to improve the same it was proposed by J. H. Graham that 1,400 feet be added to the south pier and 600 to the north pier making the piers of even length and carrying them out where a depth of water of 25 feet could be obtained.

This arrangement, it is conceded would give Benton Harbor and St. Joseph a harbor as good as any on the west shore of the lake, and enable the two cities to compete with other cities which at present have more desirable harbor facilities. This extension of the piers, it was thought could be built at a cost not to exceed $20 per lineal foot, if the new scheme of pier building was adopted, a scheme the government has adopted at other places with highly satisfactory results. It is called "crib" work and seems to stand the tests perfectly, and can be built for $80 per lineal foot cheaper than the old style piers.

The engineer's report on the St. Joseph harbor allows for an extension of 850 feet to the north pier which is estimated to cost $85,000. Ten thousand dollars is reported necessary for dredging and $5,000 is allowed for incidentals, making $100,000, the amount of the appropriation recommended.

EXAGGERATED.

Are the Stories Concerning the Gallien Diphtheria Epidemic.

The Michigan Bulletin of Vital Statistics just issued by the state department at Lansing says in regard to the diphtheria epidemic at Gallien, which a local paper has been persistently exaggerating:

Statements have been made in Michigan and Chicago papers relative to an epidemic of diphtheria prevailing in Gallien village, Berrien county, and alleging that ten deaths from this disease had occurred within the "past six weeks." (Dated November 5.) Our returns showed no deaths reported from diphtheria for Gallien village for September and none for October, there being, however, two deaths from the disease in Gallien township. This department immediately addressed a letter of inquiry to the local registrar, D. B. Prince, clerk of Gallien village, and also a copy of the same to the prosecuting attorney of the county, as the case seemed to require immediate investigation. A prompt reply was received from the registrar, which effectually disposes of the imputation of inaccuracy in the registration returns, and shows that the condition of affairs has been seriously misrepresented, so far, at least, as regards recent mortality:

Answering your letter of the 8th inst., will say that the communication you refer to saying there had been 10 deaths from diphtheria in Gallien or vicinity in the past six weeks was an error. The children of persons mentioned have all died of diphtheria, but only two, wife and child of Wilbur Welch [these are the deaths reported from Gallien township], in the past six weeks; the others all died last spring before the law requiring burial certificates to be issued was enacted.

There are something like 13 cases of diphtheria in Gallien village now, but no case has resulted fatally since the deaths in the Welch family. All are doing nicely at present. The health officer is rigidly enforcing the quarantine and thinks he has it under control.

IMMENSE CONTRACT.

Crouch Construction Company Will Build 140 Miles of Railroad in Illinois.

WILL COST OVER $2,000,000

Contract Was Awarded Yesterday, and the Road Must be Completed by January, 1899.

The Crouch Construction company, two members of which—C. D. Crouch and H. H. Wade—are residents of this city, was yesterday awarded the contract to build 140 miles of railroad in Illinois for the Chicago & Southwestern company. The line of the proposed road extends from Peoria to Chicago, and its construction involves the expenditure of $2,000,000.

The contract is the largest ever undertaken by the Crouch people. It requires that the road shall be turned over to the company by January, 1899, all ready for operation. The material is all furnished by the railway company, but the work with the exception of the bridges is left entirely with the contractors. The building of the depots and all other necessary features is included in the contract awarded the Crouch people.

The bed is required to be placed in condition for the running of trains at a rate of 40 miles per hour, and every feature of this work must be first-class. The contractors are expected to complete 10 miles of the road this fall although it is not compelled to.

The Crouch construction company will continue to have its main office in Chicago during the progress of work on the new contract, and although not definitely arranged Messrs Crouch and Wade will probably permit their families to remain here where they have made many friends.

PIOUS BANNERS.

They Will Attract Niles People from Wickedness.

Niles, Nov. 18.—Permission having been granted by the common council, a local religious organization will hang large banners across the principal streets, bearing scriptural quotations.

The banners will be so arranged that at night they may be illuminated, and the words of the gospel will boldly confront every person who enters this city.

The promoters call this the "Silent Religion," and expect it will have beneficial results.

USEFUL HINTS.

Washing Silk Materials—Paint Spots. Something About Chapped Faces.

Well lighted dining rooms are a necessity in all well organized households. It is a mistake to think that a half light is desirable for large parties, as a full, brilliant light is advantageous to both men and women in evening dress. A chandelier or other illuminating arrangement should be suspended over the table, in addition to which there should be candles upon the table itself. Lights may also be placed on the walls. If rose colored shades are employed for both candles and gas, the effect will be more becoming to the complexion.

Bran water is recommended for washing silk goods, ribbons and silk stockings. The bran water must be strained through linen before being used. The material—foulard, surah or china silk—which has been washed is squeezed in a towel and ironed while it is damp. Ribbon is pressed between two papers when it is half dry.

Spots of oil paint may be removed from wearing apparel by wetting the place with turpentine and rubbing it hard with a woolen rag.

Women whose skin chaps and burns easily should never venture out of doors without a veil.

The picture given in today's issue shows a costume of black crepe de chine. The skirt, which is gathered around the waist, is trimmed with applications of white lace and has an underskirt of black satin. The bodice is shirred and closes at the left side under a ruffle of white mousseline de soie. The sleeves are shirred to match the corsage, and the belt and collar are of white satin. The hat, of shirred black crepe de chine, is trimmed with red velvet.

Our 5th Christmas...

As we approach our 5th Christmas in Benton Harbor we wish to thank our many patrons for their appreciation of our efforts in the last four years. We try to merit and we study to please. If we have any critics remember that "by-standers" often see good moves on the checker boards of other players, but seldom even reach the "King Row" when they play themselves. We have "distanced" every competitor in Southwestern Michigan. Not only coming under the "wire" ahead, but having time to put our horse in the barn before the others reach the last quarter-mile post. But this Christmas will show a larger, finer and better assortment than ever before. Sensible, useful presents, no nonsense in our line. Goods are now coming in fast. Do not delay until the assortment is broken.

PA-TRIC-O-LO is the authorized version of his name.

WHILE the Deam faction is fighting the Davies faction in the tunnel railroad company Attorneys Bridgman and Cady will probably build the road.

If the Excelsior Gas company gets its franchise to operate in St. Joseph it will be because Colonel Bean doesn't know himself. Electric light is good enough for the colonel.

If the local energy displayed in crying hard times were diverted toward lending assistance to the Excelsior mineral water sanitarium and bath houses, Benton Harbor would soon take on a very different sort of business aspect.

IT now transpires that it was not out of the goodness of their hearts that the insurance companies recently made a cut in rates. It was because State Insurance Commissioner Campbell threatened to bring suit against the insurance trust that the rates suddenly dropped. The insurance commissioner is a man after Pingree's heart.

BENTON Harbor people are responsive to good things. This fact was again demonstrated last evening by the grand audience attracted by Patricolo. Some entertainments of real merit are not seemingly appreciated. It is not the fault of the people but the lack of intelligent and systematic advertising on the part of the management.

WHEN Attorney Sam H. Kelley succeeds in showing that the Benton Harbor paving assessments are illegal he can make himself immortal by entering the federal courts and proving that all tax assessments are illegal. Mr. Kelley would become a universal favorite with everyone except the rich men who even now do not believe in paying taxes.

PERHAPS Senator Burrows or some of his Kalamazoo friends own unimproved horses. There is some mysterious reason why that alleged harbor always figures so well in the list of appropriations. St. Joseph and Benton Harbor will never get their deserts until they put the responsibility for a small appropriation somewhere. Senator Burrows can get a quarter million dollars for this harbor and the results of a failure to do his duty should be pictured strongly before him.

NEW YORK is excited over its annual horse show. Judging from the newspaper accounts, the animals exhibited are the most useless of their kind. They are the duds, the willie-boys and the sissy-girls of the equine race. Few if any of the beasts ever did an honest day's work or rendered an equivalent in service for their keep. Yet, they may be as useful as most of the people who go to see them. Like seeks like. A congress of cart horses and trusty pullers of the plow would have a certain dignity about it, but it would not draw a crowd or get much space in the papers.

A RESOLUTION was carried at the harbor improvement meeting last evening to "fire" all reporters out of the meeting and to suppress proceedings of the meeting. This is the manner in which the subject of harbor improvements has been tackled for years and the results accomplished amount to nothing. The newspapers can do more toward securing harbor appropriations than any other agency and in overlooking their help in this matter a grave mistake is certainly made. The time for appeal has passed. It is now time to demand that Senator Burrows do something.

HINDS' HOOVER.

Postoffice of the New Postmaster at Berrien Springs.

The postoffice department has made a ruling by which mailing facilities may be established at railroad stations. For some time there has been much wrangling over the mailing of letters on railway postoffices at postoffices of the fourth class where the compensation of the postmaster is based on the stamps cancelled. Heretofore the department has ruled that all cancellation on which the postmaster is entitled to take credit must be cancelled in the postoffice. The official was forbidden to go to the railroad station and there cancel the batch and add the amount to his daily account.

By the new rule a postmaster, where public convenience demands it, may put up a box at a railway station, remove the mail therefrom and cancel the stamps at the station, taking credit for the same.

This is expected to do away with pretty quarrels between the postmaster and some of his townsmen, who to "get even" for some imaginary or real offense mail their letters on the train and thus deprive the official of his compensation.

YOU'LL LAUGH

If You See the "Obstinate Family" Next Wednesday Evening.

The ladies of the Universalist church are very fortunate in having arranged a delightful entertainment for Wednesday evening, November 24, at Conkey's hall, at which time will be presented a very amusing, laughable farce, entitled, "The Obstinate Family" or "A Woman's Won't."

The plot is laid about the Harford's dinner table and shows how slight an occurrence will suffice to disturb the domestic tranquility of a whole household. The situations involved are ludicrous, laughable in the extreme, more particularly so to those who have experienced the force of a husband's or wife's whim.

Rehearsals are being held every day and with faultless costumes and appropriate stage settings, the piece cannot but be a great success.

The following is the full cast:

Lucy, a servant..... Miss Adeline Graves
Mr Harwood, Harford's father-in-law..... Mr Charles K Farmer
Mrs Harwood, Harford's mother-in-law..... Miss Anna Watson
Henry Harford..... Mr Frank P. Graves
Jessie Harford, his wife..... Mrs Alice Hood
James, Harford's servant..... Mr Floyd Dalgneau

TO THE PUBLIC.

As a stranger soliciting a share of your patronage it is but just to you and to myself that I make some mention of my fitness for the work I would undertake. I come of a medical family, my father, brother and many relatives being physicians. I have attended and hold credentials from leading homo-pathic and allopathic medical colleges. For eighteen years I have successfully conducted a large practice. I have held high office in State and National medical societies, and received honorary professional recognition from abroad. I have had considerable hospital experience, am something of a medical writer and author, and have been professor in reputable medical colleges.

These frank statements can be easily verified. If they commend me to your confidence it will give me pleasure to professionally advise and assist healthward all who need and desire my services.

I am prepared to and will practice all branches of medicine and surgery, but because of special research, experience and success in this direction, greatly prefer and particularly invite those suffering from obscure, complicated, delicate, and all chronic or lingering diseases to consult me. Obstinate cases that others have failed to cure are solicited.

My office is at 112 East Main street, one door east of the postoffice. Benton Harbor.

TIED UP BUSINESS.

A Steamer Ties Up in the Draw of a Chicago Bridge and Stops Traffic.

THE CAPTAIN GOT REVENGE.

Steamer Onoko Stops a Long Line of Trolley Cars and Thousands of People.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Without apparent excuse or reason, the steamer Onoko was held in the river for an hour and a half, with her stern in the draw of Dearborn street bridge, last night in such a manner that the bridge could not be closed. It was during "rush hours," when the streets were filled with people hurrying homeward. A long line of trolley cars, which cross on Dearborn street bridge, was held on both sides of the river, and the people who patronize those lines crossing the bridge were obliged to take other cars, in many cases putting them far out of their road, or wait until bridge hour was over and the steamer allowed to move up through Clark street. If the captain of the Onoko could have heard the remarks that were made concerning his lines of action he might have been displeased.

It was just before the bridge hour when the Onoko, bound up the river with a cargo of wheat from Duluth, met the steamer Alva, bound down with grain, right in the space between Clark and Dearborn streets. There was only one draw of the bridge open to either, the north draw, and end on they met, and the skippers of the two steamers exchanged compliments and waited. The captain of the Alva, with greater grace, finally backed his boat through Clark street, and that bridge was swung. But the master of the Onoko was evidently determined to be ugly. Although there was plenty of room for his steamer between the two bridges with both closed the Onoko was moved ahead until her bow touched the dock, and with her stern still in the draw of Dearborn street bridge the captain tied up his boat and all hands responded to the summons of the cook, who with a big bell called the crew to supper. The protests of the bridgetender and the policemen availed nothing with him, and regardless of the long line of street cars he allowed his boat to delay several thousand people in their journey homeward, and calmly went below.

Those wishing photos for Christmas should come early and avoid the rush.

DEATH ON CHILKOOT.

Twenty Prospectors Said to Have Perished on the Trail.

San Francisco, Nov. 18.—George Pope of Chicago has written to a friend here from Sheep Camp, on the Chilkoot trail. The letter is dated October 28 and gives the latest news of the condition of the men who are stuck on the way to Klondike.

He states that a heavy storm had been raging on the pass. When it passed he hoped to get his outfit over the summit. He continues:

"The other day a man told me that at least twenty men had perished on the trail within the last few weeks. I have not been able to verify his statement. At every town and settlement where prospectors are compelled to stop, dozens of men, and business men at that, have stories to tell of the dangers of the journey. Their advice is to avoid the trip now at any cost."

THE EVENING NEWS

JUDGMENT OF $1,000 AGAINST
ROSCOE TABOR IS AFFIRMED.

Supreme Court Decides That He Is Entitled to Damages for Injury Received from An Air Gun.

The supreme court yesterday affirmed the judgment of the Berrien county circuit court which gave John N. Chaddock $1,000 as compensation for the injuries he received from the contents of an air gun discharged by Roscoe Tabor six years ago.

This decision concludes a very interesting case. Six years ago Roscoe Tabor, then 10 years old, was playing with an air gun at the home of his uncle, A.
Plummer, of this city. He discharged the weapon just as J. N. Chaddock was passing along the street. The bullet struck a board and glanced struck Mr.
Chaddock in one of his eyes. He lost the sight of the affected eye entirely and had the sight of the other impaired.

He brought an action for damages against A. Plummer and the supreme court held that Mr. Plummer was not liable. Afterwards another action for $5,000 damage was commenced against Roscoe Tabor. The case was tried in the circuit court last spring and resulted in a judgment of $1,000 for the plaintiff. An appeal was taken and the supreme court affirmed the judgment. Gore & Harvey and N. A.
Hamilton appeared for the plaintiff and G. M. Valentine and A. Plummer for the defendant.

The judgment obtained in the Van Buren county circuit court by the defendant in the case of Stilwell, Bierce & Smith, Vale company against the Niles paper mill was affirmed by the supreme court yesterday. Gore & Harvey of this city appeared for the plaintiff.

In the case of Dr. Burk against the Chicago & West Michigan railway company the judgment of $21 awarded the plaintiff in the circuit court of this county was reversed by the supreme court yesterday. The case will not be retried. The suit was brought to recover on a claim for professional services.

Have a Benefit of Their Own.

EDITOR NEWS: We notice in THE EVENING NEWS last evening that one of Spencer & Barnes company employes of the furniture factory, recently injured his hand with a saw cutting three fingers nearly off but that he continued to work with the other hand
and that he did not belong to the Phoenix. Now we, The Furniture Workers' Benefit society of Spencer & Barnes company, wish to say that he did not belong to our society and also wish to state that he did not get cut in the factory but in the sawmill and the cut was nothing more than a scratch across the fingers and do not think that any company would pay benefit for a cut of that kind when it was not enough to lay a man up. We also wish to say that we have one of the best and cheapest benefit societies for 25 cents per month. If you are sick or get hurt you get $5 per week after the first seven days and for 15 cents per month you get $3 per week for 13 weeks and we also pay $50 to defray funeral expenses. We have been running about two years, had two death claims to pay and paid all other claims and have between $100 and $200 in the treasury. If we paid $1.00 per month
we could pay from $12 to $20 per week,
for we have no high officers to pay.
We all work for one another's interest.

He Was Not in It.

A man who was offering for sale a small Newfoundland puppy on Chestnut street quite unintentionally afforded a good deal of amusement to the promenaders. Of course he was pleased at the notice which he attracted, but he couldn't see what there was so funny about either himself or his dog. He had bought one of those ready made handbills, such as are pasted upon houses, reading: "For Sale. Inquire Within."
With an ordinary lead pencil he had crossed off the word "within," and,
making a period after "inquire," tied it around the puppy's body. But the lines of erasure were so faint that ten feet away the handbill appeared in its original form. A small boy who saw the joke approached the man and asked,
"Say, mister, did de growler swallow his owner?" "No. Don't git gay, Johnny," said the man. "Well, den, who do you ask fur w'en youse gits inside?"
queried the small boy. Then the man saw the point and tore off the lower half of the placard, so that it read simply, "For Sale."—Philadelphia Record.

Fair Collateral.

A soldier in the guards came to me in Queen's square to swear to his having lost his duplicate. I looked at the affidavit to see if it were military acconterments, etc., that he had pawned, when to my surprise I found that he had pawned a $3 bank note for 10s. 6d. On asking an explanation of this odd circumstance, he said he received the $3
note and was resolved to pass a jolly evening, but not to spend more than a half guinea, and to insure this he pawned the note for that sum and destroyed the duplicate afterward that he might not be able to raise money on it in case his resolution should give way
while he was drinking with his companions.—Cornhill Magazine.

WINTER NOTES.

Smooth Cloth Costumes—Jackets and Capes—Trimmed Redingotes.

Thick woolen goods having a hairy surface will be much worn during the cold season. They will be mixed with cloth and with plain woolen fabrics with novel effect. These heavy wools can only be employed for plain and simple styles without fullness or drapery of any kind.

Smooth cloth composes many costumes, both in the tailor made fashion and in more elaborate styles. In blue, red and green it is a great favorite and is often trimmed with black cords, passementerie, buttons or braid. These are for less pretentious wear, but fur, velvet, satin and embroidery are used for decorating cloth gowns for formal wear.

Cloth jackets are often made very elegant by embroidery and are trimmed with astrakhan or sable, having revers of light
silk or satin.

Capes are longer than they were during the summer and are frequently mounted

OUT OF DOOR COSTUME.

In plaits on a highly decorated yoke. They have high, stiff, flaring collars, lined with light satin or with lace or feathers.

There is a marked tendency to adorn long coats of the redingote form with corslets, boleros, pelerines, yokes, etc. The sleeves are made rather wide.

Astrakhan and mongolie are dominant furs and are largely employed on light cloth costumes. Chinchilla and sable are likewise very fashionable, forming blouses, capotes, pelerines, boas and trimmings. Ostrich feather decorations are greatly employed and are very delicate and becoming, but perishable.

Today's sketch shows an out of door
costume having a skirt of chestnut brown cloth, which forms large plaits all around and is mounted upon a yoke. Two narrow ruches of brown silk are carried around the hips. The bodice of brown silk is entirely covered with horizontal tucks, as are also the close sleeves. The wrinkled belt is of black velvet and is fastened by a pearl buckle, and a black feather box is worn.
The hat of black velvet is trimmed with black plumes, and a large chon of yellow velvet is placed under the lifted brim.
